

What do you want to talk about?

Which of these situations can you relate to? Circle any that apply.

- ⇒ "I'd really like to get out of this RUT and wake up excited for work every day."
- ⇒ "There are some redeeming qualities about my career but I've got to have a better plan for what's next."
- ⇒ "I can't just quit – I need to integrate my search into my daily plan and stay motivated day-by-day so I can make a smooth transition."
- ⇒ "What do I wanna be when I grow up." ... or more accurately, "What do I want to do NEXT now that I AM grown up?"
- ⇒ "There has got to be a better way to leverage my talent and time to make the kind of money I deserve"
- ⇒ "My resume isn't generating enough responses - I've got to figure out how to make it stand out among all this competition."
- ⇒ "I certainly deserve a promotion, but office politics being what they are, I better make sure I don't get passed over (again)."
- ⇒ "How can I get more comfortable with networking - I know that's the best way to make the right contacts?"
- ⇒ "I know I give a pretty good interview, but what else I can do to secure first place against all other candidates?"
- ⇒ "What if the job offer comes in too low? How can I negotiate a better deal?"
- ⇒ "I'm almost ready to retire - I just need an exciting and meaningful plan for how I'll use my time (that's a career change, too)."

Now let's talk about breaking through these challenges and create the rewarding career move you want to achieve. The first session's "on the house."

Just call or e-mail to request for a sample session.

Looking forward,

Jonathan